Selena Gomez fans now have a chance to live like the singer/actress. She just listed her more than 10,000-square foot home in Fort Worth, Texas for $3 million. The private estate, which is located in the exclusive neighborhood of Montserrat, features five bedrooms, six and a half bathrooms, three fireplaces, a game room and a theater. It also includes a pool, putting green, outdoor kitchen, cabana, tennis court and basketball court.

The pop star originally purchased her Texas home back in November 2015 for $3.5 million. However, her busy schedule prevents her from spending any time there.

Gomez's real estate agent, Ashley Cook, told a local blog, "She ended up only spending holidays there. Her work schedule takes her all over the place, but she really loved hanging out with her family in the media room."
